

Terms:

I take full accountability for my life and any results I reap from our sessions. At the end of the day, Amber/Oracle of Authenticity is not responsible for my physical/emotional/spiritual well being, nor hardships that may happen upon me. I am entering into an agreement that we will both do our best and are both leading from our hearts with no ill intent. These services are meant to help me expand from where I'm currently at, and there is no guarantee for any specific result.